

THE OMPRAKASH FOUNDATION

AN EDUCATIONAL COMMUNITY

General Information Flyer

The Omprakash Foundation is a registered US-based charity that works to build relationships and facilitate collaboration between different social actors around the world. We allow a diverse range of educational projects to represent themselves and their needs on our website (www.omprakash.org), and then we work to introduce this network to individuals and communities who can help meet these needs. Here are a few ways that you can get involved:

-Volunteer at one of the projects represented on our website! Many of our partners need volunteers to help teach English, Art, Physical Education, and more. Please consider browsing the “Volunteer Opportunities” page of our website to see what you can do. If you want to volunteer, but can’t afford the costs of travel and living expenses, you can consider applying for funding through our Volunteer Grant program.

-Direct funds or other material resources to projects in need! All donations to Omprakash can be earmarked for a project of your choice. Explore the “Our Partners” section of our website, and find a project that inspires you. You can either donate directly, or you can start a fundraising initiative under the umbrella of Omprakash.

-Contribute to our message board! Please use our website as a forum in which you and other volunteers, fundraisers, and donors can communicate with each other and with the educational projects that you are working to support.

-Help us expand our network! We are constantly working to connect projects that need support with communities that are able to help. If you know of a worthy project that could benefit from representing itself on our website, please put us in touch. Likewise, don’t hesitate to introduce our website to your own community at school, work, or home.

This list is not meant to be exhaustive—the possibilities for collaboration are endless. Please contact us with any questions at all.

Thanks for reading,

Ashley Moore Gordon Guthrie Nick Smith Steve Le
Willy Oppenheim Elliott Wright